About Greco

Greco Garcia was born in Mexico. At an early age, his family moved to the United States where he went to school, graduating with a degree from Arizona State University.

At the age of 26, Greco started his first business in the health and fitness industry (HERBALIFE) with a small investment. Today his business grosses more than $12,000,000 a year, with sales in ten countries.

For more than 23 years, Greco has been showing people all over the world how to start their own business. He recently returned from the Philippines, Singapore, Hong Kong and India. He is teaching people like you how to earn, invest and make their money grow.

Greco has taught his children (eight and ten years old) to begin their own business, recycling aluminum cans and plastic bottles. They each earn some $100 dollars a month. Greco taught himself through books, trial and error, and experience to achieve financial independence.

Endorsements: This is a book I want my children to read, so they can learn how money grows money.

"We must teach our children not to spend their money a dollar at a time.

If you spend your money a dollar at a time, you'll wind up with trinkets instead of treasures.

You can't buy much of value a dollar at a time."—JIM ROHN
